Opening of Chambers.

Government Message.

At 2-P. M. on yesterday our Provincial Senate was opened for probably, the last time; and Governor Mitre our President elect gave a comprehensive narration of our political statu quo.

After a brief glance at the commencement of last Session, reference is made to the late war, and the victorious result is entirely ascribed to the assistance of divine Providence.

The Government draws a gloomy picture of the monstrous evils of civil-war, but bids us hope for the installation of Congress. Respecting foreign claims, we are told the French list is fixed at 3 millions more: the English and Irish losses are yet unsettled, but stated not to exceed one half that sum. The public Tribunals receive ample laudations, especially in the sentence against Rosas, which looks rather farsical to our readers. The University has about 500 students, being one-third fewer than last year. The state-college has also dwindled very much. The National schools are convalescent, some are being repaired, others re-built, and only some half dozen villages are yet in benighted ignorance. The fund in Bank for Educational purposes is 3,787,000 $. A passing compliment is paid to the sisters of Charity. The Topographic society is about to publish its Annals this year: in 10 years we have had 35 new land-surveyers. The Public land produced last year 7 ½ millions more.

The proportion of pick-pockets, horse-breakers, forgers, and pluggers is so much diminished, that a testimony of Sr. Cazon's efficiency is herein established, and the vigilantes are publicly thanked. The Statistical Table for 1860 and '61 is at press. The Museum is greatly improved under Sr. Burmeister, having received some valuable contributions. Sr. Posadas is highly complimentary of the great reforms in Postal regulations. The San Fernando railway granted on terms similar to the first contract, is actively pushed on by Messrs. Croskey & Murray. The former gentleman has proposed street horse railroads, and Sr. Arning has sent in a like petition.

The Senate is recommended to foster the Mercedes and Chascomus enterprises. The Bishop's Palace, Negretta sheep, Artesian well and Cathedral also occupy attention. In fine, the rural municipalities and camp justices receive greater laudations than are echoed by the "Standard."

The Departments of War and Finance have some interesting data; as will be seen in the message which we reproduce to-morrow. The British debt is set down below £1,000,000.

Later from Europe.

Arrival of the "Salvonge" hanging date from England 25th and Lisbon 30th March.

ENGLAND.

No news of importance. The Secretary of War stated that he has given instructions to the commander of the English forces in China, to put a stop to the excesses of the rebels.

It is reported that the Prince of Wales had arrived at Lisbon in Egypt.

The "Morning Chronicle," established in the year 1770 has ceased to exist. It was formerly the organ of the Whigs, the most eminent and liberal writers of England contributing. It afterwards passed into the hands of the Peelites and other political parties: it finally died out, having lost the support of the public.

FRANCE.

The Legislative Body discussed the answer to the Speech from the Throne. The debates on the Roman question were both brilliant and grave, as well as those which took place on the Commercial Treaty with England, to which some deputies attributed the real state of the present french Industry. Mr. Darcha maintained that the actual crisis in France was due to the civil war raging in America. The address was carried by 215 ayes to 8 noes and was presented to the Emperor on the 23rd by a Commission.

The answer of the Emperor to this address is most significant.

After expressing his satisfaction at the adhesion of the Legislative Body he continues.

However, allow me to tell you this, the simple communication of some financial measures, has given rise to an exaggerated feeling. A system can only be appreciated when in full working. That which has been proposed contains at the same time an increase and decrease of Taxes and Revenue, which may be developed and diminished. There questions shall be examined of a common accord and I do not doubt but that through the spirit of conciliation which animates all, the Commission and the Council of State, they will come to a solution in accordance with the views of the Legislative Body and the general interest.

The result of the conversion of the Rentes 4½ was known: 31,000,000 fcs. 4½ p $ had been converted: the Public Treasury finding thereby a clear profit of 155 millions francs.

It is rumoured that a new ministerial repartition is to take place, with the view to an administrative reorganization of all the railways in France.

The working classes were still labouring under great distress, although their situation appeared lately to improve, especially in the silk industry.

It was stated that the Emperor would visit London during the Universal Exhibition.

Halevy the composer and Henry Scheffer the painter died in Paris.

PRUSSIA.

Change of Ministry. Prince Hohenlohe has been named, upon which all the other Ministers who professed liberal opinions retired from office, not being willing to countenance the reactionary tendencies of the new President of the Council.

The Ministry is as follows—

Prince Hohenlohe, President of the Council.

De Bernstoff, Foreign Department.

De Roon, War.

Mueller Agriculture,

De Loque, Justice.

De Jagow, Home Department.

New elections will take place in April. There will be several accession but nobody doubts the success of the liberal party.

The Prussian Government has decreed the conversion of the bonds 4½ p $ into 4 p $.

ITALY.

.... Are Mazzini's complexity organized. The foreign Department being filled by the Marquis of Tourrette, who only require the adhesion of the King: entire into office.

The Lamarmora-Cialdini combination of conciliation of Piedmont to our Garibaldi has obtained of Ratazzi, in an interview he had with the Minister the incorporation into the National army of the army of the South, and the creation of 16 new regiments.

RUSSIA.

The state of siege in Poland is suspended.

AUSTRIA.

The Emperor is in Venice, where a great meeting has been held, at which the Dukes of Modena, Tuscany, and the count of Chambord attended.

A levy of 55,000 men has been decreed.

The Austrian army is concentrated on the Turkish frontier,

TURKEY.

The war in Herzegovina still continues, and the Montenegrins have run to arms with a view of desperate resistance.

GREECE.

The insurrection is not yet quelled. Several combats and partial revolts have taken place.

It is stated that the rebels of Nauplia had offered to surrender, and that General Hatzu had consented to a 24 hour's truce.

The situation of the country was commanding the attention of the English Government, as the Ionian Islands are in a very disturbed state.

A squadron sailed from Malta for Athens, and the opinion prevailed that both Austria and England had guaranteed the throne of Greece to the dynasty of Otho.

CHINA.

News from China to the 28th January.

The French and English Commanders have interfered in favor of the Imperialists against the rebels, who are committing great depredations in the environs of Shanghai.

There were rumours of a conspiracy brewing between the inhabitants of Canton and Fou Chow, with the intention of massacreing all foreigners.

From Cochin-China, the news are favorable to the French; the natives are losing ground every day.

UNITED STATES.

Notwithstanding the warlike Message of President Davis, the New York Tribune States that this chief of the Rebels has made to the Government of the Union the following proposals;

1.° The Union shall be maintained or reestablished.

2.° Mr. Lincoln shall remain President of the States.

3.° Mr. Hamlin shall renounce the Vice Presidency and his successor to be Mr. Davis.

4.° Mr. Davis shall succeed to the presidency on Mr Lincoln's retiring who in his turn shall be named Vice President.

5.° The Presidency and Vice Presidency to be filled alternately by North and Southern Candidates.

The army of the Potomac is on the march; Harpers Ferry is occupied by them Banks's concentrated movement of the whole of the Northern Army is being made the rebels are all daily evacuating Tennessee and a large part of Mr. Court & Kentucky is completely in the union. On the other hand, it is calculated that the territory in occupation by the Northern powers is capable of yielding 250,000 Bales of cotton.

President Lincoln's son is dead.

The New York money market is easy, & specie was declining in premium.

Wool of the best clip is in demand, but hides look dull, trade was greatly reviving owing to the prospects of peace.

The Entre Rios Bank.

We are requested to state that the emission of paper money will be only twice the amount of actual cash paid in as capital, and not as we asserted thrice the proposed capital of 2 millions.

The Charter is very ambiguous, as to the clause, and we assert that without explanation it reads as we stated namely that on paying in a capital of 100,0 0 patacones the Bank could emit paper to 6 millions.

It may be useful to remark that properly speaking the capital of a Bank has nothing whatever to do with its emission & that even tho the capital paid in of this proposed bank were 6 millions fuertes still the bank on its proposed basis would be unsound, and liable to failure.

The paper emission of a Bank should depend upon the amount of securities actually deposited in the hands of the State Comptroller, and nothing else.

The capital of a bank is represented by shares or stock. To deposit such securities, to represent or secure the emission is but a deceptive scheme, for if the Bank fails to pay specie or is shut up or what earthly value is its stock?

We therefore hold that a suitable security should be deposited to represent every paper dollar issued, no matter what its actual cash-in-hand may be. A bank formed upon any other basis we cannot, upon principle, support.

The British Library.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Sir—

Like the unfortunate individual "unaccustomed to public speaking," I feel a secret dread of "rushing into print," and but for the warm interest I feel in the subject, would not attempt to occupy your space.

To anybody conversant with the working of the Library, it is well known that it barely maintains a sickly existence, and that unless something be done to galvanize it into more active life, it must inevitably sink under the adverse fate with which it has been so long struggling, and which appears to have pursued it from its very foundation. I was greatly rejoiced, therefore, to notice your recent article's regarding it, and hoped that something better, or more practical, than the mild criticisms of two correspondents would be the result; but, as usual, I suppose "what is everybody's business is nobody's business."

The condition of the British Library is really a shame and a reproach, and also to the young men for whom it is principally intended, but to the merchants and men in power, who ought to cherish and assist it more than they do. I am aware that the latter, when its very dissolution seemed threatened, by want of resources, generously contributed towards paying it upon a better, if not permanent footing, and I am not an adverser for a second round to the lion often. I would, if possible, cause the Library to appeal to the young men themselves, to whom its many advantages are more available; but, if this will not answer, then I think it better we throw in a higher sphere to extend it, or put upon a better one.

Instead of this, what was the fact? That the last number of subscribers of those received 150, of whom a few are life members, and several others books of houses, who consider it infra dig. to associate in its management, or be seen in its rooms, while the great body of the young men, who are subscribers, are rarely seen there; and many others (to whom a trifling $150 per annum can be no consideration) do not subscribe at all, or if subscribers for one year, discontinue the next. It is strange, therefore, that the Institution languishes upon a precarious and fluctuating income?—scarcely sufficient to pay rent and other necessary expenses, besides providing the best papers, a few English ones, and an occasional parcel of books, which are usually engaged "eight deep" before arrival.

This is the present condition of the Library, and the same may be said of the past three years, in a more or less aggravated degree, the constant fear of bankruptcy staving the unhappy treasurer in the face, and the unenviable situation of committee man annually going a-begging. It is difficult to account for so much apathy towards an institution of such inestimable advantages. I have seen, in the small country towns of England, a mechanics' Institution, with its library, news room, lecture and society rooms, supported almost exclusively by artisans and working men, while here we can barely keep a miserable library open.

Is it that the opportunities for rational and agreeable amusements are more abundant here? or that the idea of "mutual improvement" is voted a humbug? or that young men cease to regard here the character of being a studious reader, and prefer mooning away their idle hours in each other's uncomfortable "airings," to meeting upon the neutral ground furnished by the library, and, by the influence of differently constituted minds upon each other, round off the sharp corners of prejudice, and by imbibing gradually a more favourable opinion of one another, tend to create a social element, for which, I fear, we are at home, and abroad. Distinguished.

Let us, then, make one more effort to place the Library on a more satisfactory basis; and, as we meet again in a month or two, for our annual retrospect, let us, instead of endeavouring to elook past failures, under glowing periods of a hopeful future, attempt some practical reformation. If the news-room is proved to be hampering the library, by all means shut it up, or have it on some such plan as the number of subscribers, and double the subscription, than attempt, and fail with both; and if we cannot continue the high-sounding title of Library, we may at least resolve ourselves into a select Book Club, which I have frequently seen carried out with success.

One suggestion I would respectfully offer—that a the present committee be a meeting of the principal friends of the Library, preparatory to the annual meeting, and with them calmly consider its present position and prospects, and form on one definite conclusion, to be submitted to the general body of subscribers, so that instead of the usual meeting being "a full of tongue," as it has been usually—each would be debater with his own construction—we have some carefully devised plan of reorganization to be drawn out and approved.

I would suggest for the help to which my name is above signed, that I think I have the right myself, attach much importance to the subject, I consider it such, that if I received your notice, my business would be of little importance, and I would attend the meeting, or send all my tenants to do so.

I remain &c. present.

A SUBSCRIBER.

TRAVELS IN LA PLATA.

CHAP. XV.

Salta.

The Valley of Salta is studded with pretty country houses, surrounded by orchards and gardens; here their proprietors resort during the summer season, when I have, been a frequent guest, and invariably met a number of visitors, in whose company the hours glided away with agreeable rapidity.

It was the custom to rise early in the morning, mount on horseback, and visit the Quintas a few leagues off, which usually occupied from two to three hours. On returning from our ride, we sat down to breakfast, and conversed upon subjects that interested the ladies, and in which they took a prominent part: their conversation was to the full as profound, as is generally met with at any party or route. On their returning from the table, the gentlemen lighted their cigars, and sauntered about the avenues of the pleasure-ground, commenting on the politics of the country, the beauty and affability of the ladies, and the superior merits of their horses. During this interval, the ladies were occupied in the affairs of the house, or in the arrangement of their toilets, after which they walked in the garden, or to some shady spot, and seated themselves upon square pieces of carpet, spread upon the pasture, where they employed themselves in reading or knitting, till joined by the gentlemen; in whose company the afternoon was passed in dancing, singing and playing on the guitar.

The beautiful airs of Donizetti and Bellini were then unknown to them; but not the sentimental songs of the Spanish bards, which they sung in so sweet and pathetic a strain, as to create an impression as deep and lasting, as on hearing the airs of the Italian singers. They are excessively fond of dancing, and have many dances peculiar to the country, which are very lively and animated, but, the most graceful and formal is the Spanish minuet, in which they show to advantage their elegant figures. The best of good humour prevails on the occasion, which is sometimes heightened by a glass of wine, or liquor, but never to such an excess as to create offence, or to hurt in the least the modesty of the ladies. The company, generally, sat down to dinner at five in the evening, and several hours were passed in as cheerful conversation as I ever recollect to have spent at the social board. The table is burthened with a number of dishes, amongst which will be frequently found a mass of carne con cuero, (meat in the hide) which presents anything but a pleasing and prepossessing aspect; being similar in appearance to a singed calf. It is of a very delicate and substantial nature, and merits the praises bestowed upon it by the natives. Quo rico! quo delicioso! It is one of the favourite dishes of the Argentines—Maté & coffee were served round at the conclusion of the dinner: the former is their favourite beverage, and composed of an infusion of the leaf of the "Silex Paraguayensus," a plant of the Cossoh species: it is carefully cultivated in Paraguay and the Brazils; and was, within the last twenty years, in general use amongst the inhabitants: it is now superseded in many parts by coffee and tea.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Mr. Tavison.—Our Minister arrived yesterday from Asuncion by the Paraguay steamer Ypora. We hope his health is reestablished and we beg to pay him the custom ry compliment of a salute.

Gambrinarius.—This corps arrived yesterday on board the Mersey from Rosario where they have garrisoned the town for some time past.

They had a very wet reception, which, however, did not keep them from promenading our streets in their good-looking uniforms.

La Crisis de Sud.—A new French weekly paper, under this title, is to be started this month. The prospectus will be issued on Sunday morning; this being the day for its publication.

It is to be edited and published at the "Standard" office, where any communication will be received for the editor, Mr. Pongerard, late Professor of London University.

Historical Site.—It is proposed to raise a monument in the Banda Oriental, at the place where the 33 officers who invaded the country in 1824 first landed.

The officers succeeded in liberating their country from Brazils, in a campaign which terminated at the battle Ituzaingo, and accured political independence to that most disputed piece of American territory.

Sisters of Charity.—Eight of these heroines of Christian piety have arrived on our shores, and we give them a cordial welcome in the name of humanity and charity.

New Opera Co.—The following corps has arrived at Rio Janeiro, and is expected here shortly:—

Prima Donna—Maria Palmieri.
Tenor—Tito Palmieri.
Contralto—Adelia Alexandri
Second Donna—E. Alexandri
Baritone—Francesco Briani
Bass—Nicola Contadini
Music-master—Carlo Bosoni

Cricket Club.—It is proper to advise our fellow-members that there are no practice-nights until further notice. The days are now so short that it would be necessary to play by moonlight.

Paraguay.—Our colleague the Revista noticing the arrival of our Minister Mr. Thornton, says as follows.

The circumstance of this gentleman travelling in a war steamer of the nation with which t ere are British claims yet pending, leads us to suppose that they have been satisfactorily settled.

The French Mails, 6 O C. P. M. —The Mails have not as yet come ashore.

On 'Change.

May 1st.

Onnces opened to-day at 41¼, and closed at 40¾. The delay in the delivery of the mails per French steamer has prevented us from obtaining our commercial news in time for publication in to-morrow's paper and has been the cause of great complaint about town.

Business in produce has been active to-day; about 8000 ar. wool sold from deposit, and 10,000 hides from the rivers, at reserved prices.

In'andero produce we hear of no sales. Salt, it appears, is very dull at Montevideo; our last letter states that the latest arrivals were to be deposited, as there had been no offers.

We must rectify a report current in the Bolsa about a sale of American hides, said to be at 43 rials, without arrastrados. The sale has been effected at reserved prices, different from those noticed, and under different conditions.

The principal sales are as follows—

Camp produce.

2500 ar. mest. wool	$62
1200 do	65
1000 do	70

and other parcels. About 5000 ar. at prices varying from 75 to 88.

Chinchid. do.

3000 dry hides for N. America 42 rls

River do.

5000 Corrientes hides	45 rls
40 Jokes Entre Rios wool	17 "
Another parcel do. do.	18 "
600 Concordia hides	40 "

SHEEP—SHEEP—SHEEP

! Important to Sheep Farmers

A sure cure for the Scab in Sheep.

The undersigned has the pleasure of announcing to the Wool Growers of this country, that he has now received a large quantity of the celebrated South Down Sheep Wash.

This valuable preparation is highly recommended for its safety, convenience, utility and economy. It is a concentrated extract, one pound of which is equal to ten pounds of tobacco, retaining in this compact form all the properties of the raw material; at the same time saving the very dangerable and tedious operation of preparing the wash as is usually practiced in this country. The only labor required with the article now offered to the public, is to stir the paste into the quantity of water needed for the Sheep that are intended to be dipped. The Sheep Wash is highly recommended and extensively used by the wool Growers of Australia and South Africa. The samples that have been used by some of the Estancieros of this Country, have given the most perfect satisfaction, and are recommended by them as the most efficacious remedy ever used in this country; for further particulars apply either personally or by letter to C. S. BOWERS.

At Messrs. James Bell & Co.
(Calle Defensa, esquina Moreno.)

Important Testimonial.

Buenos Ayres, March 28 1862.

Dear Sir:

Having used your South Down Sheep Wash, on my flocks, I take pleasure in recommending it to all Wool Growers of this country, as the most efficacious remedy I have ever used for diseases in Sheep, and especially for removing the Scab.

I have tried many eminent remedies both here and in Scotland, and have found nothing that has given such perfect satisfaction as the South Down Sheep Wash.

Trusting that the merits of this valuable preparation may become more fully known, and recommendy commending it to the attention of all those interested in sheep,

I remain, yours, &c,
NINIAN JOHNSTONE.

To Mr. Chas. J. Bowers.

THE TEETH

DR. CORNWALL,
American Dentist,
CALLE RIVADAVIA, No. 275.

Performs all operations for the relief of pain in the teeth, and for restoring such as are partially decayed to health and usefulness.

Teeth filled by him with gold or composition will last for years, and often for life, without repair. Those beginning to loosen, from the deposit of tartar and inflammation of the gums, restored to health and usefulness. Exposed and painful nerves rendered insensible, and the necessity of extraction often avoided. Bad breath radically cured, by removing its principal cause, viz, tartar and decayed teeth. Extraction of teeth and roots by means of instruments adapted to each particular case, without pain or disagreeable pain.

The best mineral teeth inserted on rivol, gold plate, or vulcanite, from one to a whole set, without the necessity of extracting the roots. Entire satisfaction of all the atmospheric principle, without the inconvenience of liquid gold, and every case warranted to give satisfaction. Advice gratis
